Knowing Your Neighbour

Hardi believed that a healthy lifestyle leads to a better quality of life. That's why being fit physically and mentally is very essential to him. He usually starts his day by working out at his home gym with his personal trainer, doing all kinds of exercise from cardio, weight and strength training, mobility, flexibility, all the way to stretching routine.

A balanced lifestyle is extensive, and Hardi understands that it doesn't stop on the excersices and his works, it's connected to everything, including food and diet. After working out, he always had his breakfast accompanied by nutritious foods, he specially enjoys an assortment of fruits, sometimes even up to 10 kinds per day. As much as he loves fruits, he also enjoys a variety of peanuts such as almond, pistachio, and walnut.

Having said that, Hardi admits to liking a lot of type of food, as long as it's the right portion. His favorites however, are Japanese cuisine. He is a fan of sushi, sashimi, and omakase. To pair with food, he also delights in sake and a full bodied and smooth French wine.

Having what can be considered as a successful and well runned business, Hardi now delegates a lot of his work to his 2 sons and his team of professionals. During the lockdown on this pandemic, he continued his daily routine mostly from his home.

Before that, he enjoyed his time off by travelling, domestic and international, which he described as his main hobby. He explored many countries and he also got a kick out of natural destinations such as trekking the mountain range or diving in the sea. Japan, Korea, and China are among his favorites as he considers them to have extraordinary views and a tremendous selection of good food. Recently, he crossed another place on his bucket list when he visited Ushuaia, Argentina, which is known as "the city at the end of the world" before continuing to the Antartic in the South Pole.

Hardi believes that God has given him an abundance of blessings in his life, which in turn makes him passionate in helping other people as well as he can. He has a principle to always be emphatic to his surroundings and the people around him.
